DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-77, drawn to a method, apparatus, computer readable media, or computer implemented method for determining a genotype of at least one individual from a genetic marker, classified in class 702, subclass 19. If this Invention is chosen, the below mentioned species elections are required.
- II. Claims 78-79, drawn to a method for calibrating a range of values of measures of the presence of an allele at a genetic marker, classified in class 702, subclass 19.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related processes. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, Inventions I and II are distinct because their subject matter is unrelated. While the subject matter of Invention I is genotyping, the subject of Invention II is independent and distinct in that it investigates a method for calibrating a range of values of measures of the presence of an allele at a genetic marker. There is undue search burden in investigating both divergent subject matters.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Species Elections for Group I:

If group I is chosen, then the below mentioned two species elections are required. Applicant must elect one specie from each category:

Category #1: density center values (claims 13-15)

Applicant must choose whether each subset comprises three density center values, two density center values, or one density center values.

Justification: The number of density center values in each subset is an independent and distinct value mutually exclusive in all three claims.

Category #2: probability clustering process (claims 19, 20)

Applicant must choose whether the probability clustering process is initiated using a seed values or is initiated using a solution obtained by at least one K-means algorithm.

Justification: Each method of initiating probability clustering processes is unique and mutually exclusive. There is undue search burden in investigating this divergent subject matter.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-12, 16-18, and 21-57 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1631

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Papers related to this application may be submitted to Technical Center 1600 by facsimile transmission. Papers should be faxed to Technical Center 1600 via the central PTO Fax Center. The faxing of such pages must conform with the notices published in the Official Gazette, 1096 OG 30 (November 15, 1988), 1156 OG 61 (November 16, 1993), and 1157 OG 94 (December 28, 1993)(See 37 CFR § 1.6(d)).
